The Pennsylvania Legislature, after

The Pennsylvania Legislature, after four weeks of painful assistin, passed one bill. It was sent to the tievernor and he promptly vetoed it. Such is life in law-making circles.

Ma. Friendsmit view, Secretary of State, committed the unparabanable crime of failing to support Baine with proper enthusiasm, and lids sin will be visited upon his children and his children's children to the third and fourth generation.

In the reports from convict presents in England, which have just been issued, there is confirmation of the fact, stated by all released convicts, that hunger is the worst evil suffered by the hunates. The three hundred and sixty-two prisoners released from Portland during the year ended last March, had lost during their incarceration between them 1,870 pounds, giving an average loss to each man of more than five pounds. It is true that out of the whole number one hundred and two had put on flexib, but only to the extent of 1.3 pounds per man while the two lumined and sixty who had diminished in size had lost on an average 7.7 pounds.

Minnsora is tinkering at a prohibition measure which, if passed, would deserve letters patent. The bill provides that permits to drink in soloons and barrooms may be granted for the moderate sum of the dollars to any citizen who can prove he is a moderate drinker and that his inchigence will not bring want and disgrace to his family and friends. Parties thaving such permits can have the run of the drinking places in the State, while includence without such personal diense will occasion fines and penalties to both the includer and the dealer.

We see that it is proposed that under et Cleveland's administration quite a number of Southern colored men shall be appointed to Federal offices in Republican communities in the Northern States. This proposition is based on the leat that Northern Republican pointed to Federal offices in the Heat at Northern Republican sentiment, and as they have much complained that the poor Africans, couldn't have office in the South they would be repared to welcome them as office holders in the North. As Gleveland was elected on the idea of utterly breaking down sectional feeding, would it not be buth charitable and just, and mecomplish the wish of our Northern friends by sending them a liberal supply of Southern colored office holders, especially from South Carolina, Mississippi and Loudshan? We have seen that this suggestion has been recented as an insult by some Northern Republican journals. But surely they and not in this properly represent Northern Republican sections of the Southern negor from Important offices such as positions, etc., among them, bringing them in hourly communication with their people. And, therefore, can it be that the "ora of good feelings" could be hetter brought about than by gratifying them in this landable desire? As Revels and Brace under Republican dominition succeeded Jefferson Davis in the Seante from Mississippi, what a grand climax it would be to have the delivery of the mail of Hon. James C. Blaine controlled at Augusta, Maine, by a nego, and to have John Sherman Mandeld, Ohlo, thanking a negorommate of the first controlled at Augusta, Maine, by a nego, and to have John Sherman Mandeld, Ohlo, thanking a negorommater of the first controlled at Augusta, Maine, by a nego, and to have John Sherman Mandeld, Ohlo, thanking a negorommater of the section of the Southern of th eastern Kentucky. It had been in extensor a dealers of the safest in est and considered one of the safest in eastern Kentucky. It had been in existence about twenty-live years, and its trade extended throughout the whole of seastern Kentucky, part of southwestern Ohio and part of West Virginia. It carried and disposed of the entire product of one or two shoe manufactories in Massachussetts, and dealt largely in the importation of cutlery and steel goods. It was the fair and strong rival of all Cinclinasti houses in the same line, and stood as high in commercial reports as any of equal capital. The gentlemen composing the firm are men of the strictest personal and commercial integrity, and the misfortune which has fallen upon them is in no manner due to speculation or any limproper action. They have confined themselves to legitimate trade, and have heen guilty of no imprindence. The gradinal shrinkage of values, the unrescontable scarcity of money, and the inability of their correspondents to meet engagements, has forced them to an assignment, as it has and will force many others before the summer opens.
